  - a. Review and discuss the 2015 Youth Advisory Commission's goals, objectives and work plan and subcommittees provide updates

Commissioner Elmore reviewed the 2015 Youth Advisory Commissions goals, objectives and work plan and each subcommittee provided the Commission with updates. Commissioner Oliveri provided an update for the subcommittee assigned to work with Recreation Staff to implement ideas for a proposed summer camp and suggested that the Commission keep the DIY Camps, Girl Talk, and possibly add a beach day field trip for participants, and the subcommittee is scheduled to meet again on January 6th. Commissioner Elmore provided an update on behalf of the subcommittee to develop and implement at least 3 new programs and mentioned to host a ping pong tournament, a photo contest for the City of Tracy Activity Guide, and a chess tournament. The Commission agreed with the subcommittees' ideas and Staff Geibig mentioned he will provide more feedback at the next scheduled subcommittee meeting on December 17th. Commissioner Adapa provided an update for the SAT Prep Course and presented a flyer to the Commission. Commissioner Cho mentioned she is working on a marketing timeline and anticipates on having flyers distributed at each high school by mid-January. Adult Commissioner Huffman suggests submitting a TUSD flyer distribution form soon. The SAT Prep course subcommittee agreed to set a date to meet after the winter break. Commissioner Yang gave an update for the college applications and scholarships subcommittee and presented an idea of creating an informational brochure that would include application deadlines, scholarship links, and financial aid resources to be distributed. The Commission had no feedback and strongly agrees with the brochure. The college applications and scholarships subcommittee is scheduled to meet January 14th. Commissioner Cho provided an update from the Don't Text and Drive subcommittee and mentioned Dr. Franco came up with the idea to host stations during the event. The first station would be a bean bag toss while texting, the second station possibly have a speaker from an insurance agency or police officer talk about the risks and consequences of texting, and the final station have the students participate in some sort of pledge. Commissioner Cho mentioned the subcommittee will be working on a marketing and event timeline and will provide giveaway examples at the next meeting. The Don't Text and Drive subcommittee is scheduled to meet December 29th. Commissioner Garewal provided an update from the subcommittee to implement new community service projects and mentioned to partner with the Teen Empowerment Group to host an event, a park clean up, and possibly doing the Teens Helping Seniors program. The Commission liked the subcommittees' ideas and Staff Geibig mentioned he will provide more feedback at the next scheduled meeting that will be determined after the winter break.
